

Professor Nowosielski's studio

Meeting Professor Jerzy Nowosielski and then studies in his studio at the painting faculty of the Academy of Fine Arts in Cracow have had a significant influence on my life. I found the perfect conditions to study and work in professor Nowosielski's studio. The fact that Professor Nowosielski acknowledged my painting and strengthened my belief that I had chosen the right path was very important to me at that time. It was not only professor's acknowledgment and support, but also his art that played an essential role in shaping my artistic attitude. Some elements typical of his painting have left a permanent impression on my personality. Meetings and conversations were equally important as they sparked off my future spiritual transformations.

Roman Zakrzewski